FOREWORD

ASSOCIATE PROF. DR. NG SIEW FOEN
DIRECTOR OF UMK INTERNATIONAL

Greetings from UMK International!

The first quarter of 2023 passed like a breeze. With the massive return of international students to UMK, the international office has experienced a huge number of students crowding the office for visa processing matters and enquiries. The increase in international students has indeed made a significant contribution to the personality of the institution and to its financial well-being. More importantly, enrolling international students from a wide range of countries and backgrounds has boosted the diversity of the campus and will hopefully produce culturally aware and well-rounded students.

Having more international students also means having more opportunities to collaborate with our international partners. Between January and March, we assisted faculties in their mobility programs with partners from India and Indonesia. It was great to see students from these countries enjoying their interactions with UMK students as well as experiencing the local cultures and places. More discussions for potential mobility programs with China and Thailand are already in the pipeline.

The international road tour to the three campuses was another highlight of the first quarter worth mentioning. Meeting faculties and explaining the role of the international office helped to break through many barriers between the international office and the faculties. We hope this meeting will help to enhance internal cohesive collaborations and creative idea-sharing so that together we can bring UMK to another level.

Let's move forward in togetherness!
